

The EBW Emotional Intelligence System for Business Understand the Impact - Know the Full Potential

EBW Fast-Track Emotional Intelligence Certification Programme

Improve Performance at work using EQ

The EBW Fast-Track Programme builds on your knowledge of personality psychometrics and gives you firsthand experience in delivering the leading assessment of Emotional Intelligence at work combined with techniques and programmes to drive forward leadership, management, engagement and performance.

Based on 20 years of worldwide use and research, the EBW enables you to get leaders, managers and teams to understand why they manage their emotions & behaviours the way they do to improve performance.

Is It For Me?

The EBW Global Emotional Intelligence System provides you with that superior advantage.

Using the concepts measured by the EBW you can help individuals and teams become more effective by better managing their emotions and behaviours in the workplace.

This intuitive tool resonates with leaders, managers and teams, with its engaging accessible business language and its highly effective 10 step developmental framework. It has a practical and straightforward approach that works across all industries and cultures (it is available in multiple languages, including: Arabic, Korean and Chinese).

The EBW assessment, with its unique coaching tools and programmes (EQ Workshops, Leadership/Management programmes and Team EQ programmes etc), enable you to offer a credible and cost effective EQ service to your colleagues and clients that makes a difference to how people work together.

The EBW Fast-Track Certification Programme is ideal for those managers, coaches, HR professionals, trainers and psychologists who wish to be at the forefront of the latest research on EQ and want to use it to recruit and develop others to improve individual and organisational performance.

What people say

"I have found the EBW Model and psychometric extremely useful in helping individuals to objectively understand both themselves and others. More recently, it has enabled me to elicit and discuss sensitive issues with a client who previously had chosen to bury an uncomfortable aspect of their behaviour but is now keen to work on improving"

Pam Spreckley MA
Executive Coach

"The EBW has enhanced our recruitment process by allowing us to identify candidate's Emotional Intelligence. Candidates' reports are generated prior to the interview stage, enabling our recruiters to raise unique questions for each candidate rather than "one size fits all"

Matt Bennett
(Graduate Recruitment Manager)
